

Definitions for Interest Categories

General Interest

One that monitors activities related to the electronic exchange of business data.

User

One that uses a commercial software product to exchange business data electronically.

Vendor

One that provides solutions to assist users in exchanging business data electronically (commercial software, consulting, implementation, etc.).

User/Vendor

One that uses and provides a commercial software product to exchange business data electronically.